

PPO Deductibles and Medical Out-of-Pocket Maximums 2024

This chart shows deductible amounts when you complete Call to Health Level 1 — and when you do not. The medical out-of-pocket maximum is the most you will pay in the form of coinsurance for covered medical expenses in a year. This amount plus your deductible<sup>1</sup> offers a good idea of your potential out-of-pocket expense. The medical out-of-pocket maximum does not include deductibles, any required copays, or prescription drug costs. These deductibles and out-of-pocket maximums are for covered inpatient and outpatient medically necessary services; they do not include prescription drug costs or required copays (e.g., a $25 copay applies for each network doctor's office visit). A separate out-of-pocket maximum applies for prescription drugs, as noted in Key Provisions.

- <sup>1</sup> Members with covered family members are responsible for two deductibles, one for the member and one for all other family members combined. Deductibles do not count toward the medical out-of-pocket maximum.
- <sup>2</sup> 2025 deductibles may be reduced by completing Call to Health for the 2024 program year.
- <sup>3</sup> The annual deductible and medical out-of-pocket maximum for a disabled member and their eligible family is based on the lowest salary range.
- <sup>4</sup> The Board may, in its sole discretion, establish the deductible and medical out-of-pocket maximum for members enrolled in medical continuation coverage. For 2024, the deductible and out-of-pocket maximum are based on salary range 4 ($58,270-$63,024).
- <sup>5</sup> The annual deductible and medical out-of-pocket maximum amounts for seminary students are based on the lowest salary range.
- <sup>6</sup> After the member reaches the medical out-of-pocket maximum, the Medical Plan pays 100 percent of eligible expenses (up to the plan allowance) for the rest of the year, except for any required copays (e.g., a $25 copay applies for primary care doctor's office visits). Total out-of-pocket expenses for covered network services, including deductibles and coinsurance, copays, and prescription drug costs (except for non-formulary brand names and certain nonessential specialty pharmacy drugs) are capped at annual limits of $5,000 (member) and $10,000 (family).
